HOPE AND SUPPORT FOR DELAWAREANS WITH EPILEPSY

Dear Friends:

The unpredictability of seizures can throw a curveball to people with epilepsy at any time. Yet more than 11,000 Delawareans rise above seizures every day to pursue their dreams.

The Epilepsy Foundation of Delaware collaborates with groups such as the Department of Corrections and the Delaware Institute for Excellence in Early Childhood to not only assist people with epilepsy, but to train community members in proper seizure first aid to ensure positive community interactions with people with epilepsy.

People with epilepsy need the Foundation. They are finding inspiration, support and resources to realize their full potential. The reach of the Foundation extends further than those with epilepsy and enables the public groups receiving training to better themselves professionally, and to be ready to assist when someone has a seizure.

We envision a world where people with epilepsy live their best lives everyday.

Whether its a driver with epilepsy who gets his or her license, or a family who joins us at our support group and finally understands that they are not alone. The Epilepsy Foundation of Delaware can, and will, be there to help... as we have for over 56 years.

Together with our Board of Directors, we will continue meeting the needs of people in our community with epilepsy. Thank you for your support.
